Conference on ICT for Monitoring & Evaluation

Description

Tweet

Date: 18 October 2011
Venue: New Delhi, India

[found courtesy of Sarah Earl]

â??Information and Communication Technology (ICT) is ubiquitous in every aspect of our lives. Gradually ICT is acquiring a key role in monitoring and evaluation (M&E) of development projects by reinforcing the efficacy of data management and processing processes. As ICT is a whole new world for many professionals in the development sector, it becomes important to seek synergies from leading development actors and practitioners for perspective building, dissemination of knowledge and furthering the use of ICT in monitoring, evaluation and information system. How ICT influences on the collective activities and interest of the society in general has become an ineluctable question which could be well answered through the monitoring and evaluation process.â?•

â??In this context a conference on ICT for monitoring and evaluation is being organized by Sambodhi Research & Communications on October 18, 2011 in New Delhi. The theme of the conference is â??ICT for Monitoring, Evaluation, and Information System: Exploring New Frontiers.â?•

To participate in the conference click the following to download

Conference Flyer

Registration form

For more information on the conference
Contact : Dr. Mary/Ms. Padmavati
Email : contact@sambodhi.co.in Tel : 011 47593300-99

Category

1. Conferences
2. Types of Events

Tags

1. dissemination
2. Information / Communication Technology (ICT)

Date
25/11/2026

Date Created
31/08/2011
Author
admin