Tracking Progress in Advocacy â?? Why and How to Monitor and Evaluate Advocacy Projects and Programmes looks at the scope of, and rational for, engaging in advocacy work as part of development interventions, then focuses on the monitoring and evaluating of these efforts â?? offering reasons why and when these processes should be planned and implemented, whatâ??s involved, and who should be engaged in the process. By Janice Griffen, Dec, 2009

The Challenges of Monitoring and Evaluating Programmes offers some clarity in understanding the different uses of the term â??programmeâ??, and uses the different types of programme to demonstrate the issues that arise for M&E. By Janice Griffen, Dec, 2009
