Assessing the impact of human rights work: Challenges and Choices

Description

Tweet

The International Council on Human Rights Policy has produced two documents under the above named project(See here for details of the project):

- No Perfect Measure: Rethinking Evaluationand Assessment of Human Rights Work. Report of a Workshop, January 2012. Contents: Introduction and Context,,A Brief History,,NGO Hesitations, The Shift, Assessing the Impact of Policy Research, Impact Assessment in the context of Advocacy, Impact Assessment in the context of Capacity Building and Development, The Donor perspective, Third-Party Perspectivesâ??Building a bridge, A note on integrating Human Rights Principles into development work, References, Selected Additional Bibliographic Resources
- Role and Relevance of Human Rights Principles in Impact Assessment: An Approach Paper. July 2011. Contents: Introduction and Context, A Brief History, NGO Hesitations, The Shift, Assessing the Impact of Policy Research, Impact Assessment in the context of Advocacy
  Impact Assessment in the context of Capacity Building and Development
  The Donor perspective, Third-Party Perspectivesâ??Building a bridge
  A note on integrating Human Rights Principles into development work
  References, Selected Additional Bibliographic Resources

PS 14 February 2012: It appears the ICHRP website is not working at present. I have uploaded a copy of the No Perfect Measure paper here

Category

1. Workshops

Tags

1. Human rights
2. impact assessment

Date
15/11/2026
Date Created
10/02/2012
Author
admin