We are pleased to inform you that the Arabic version of the DAC Evaluation Networkâ??s â??Glossary of Key Terms in Evaluation and Results Based Management,â?• has been released. The glossary is now available in thirteen languages! The multilingual glossary serves to promote shared understandings and facilitate joint work in evaluation. The strong demand for new versions of the Glossary is an indication of its relevance for DAC members and other development partners around the world. The Arabic Glossary was produced in collaboration with the Islamic Development Bank and the African Development Bank.

You can find a video link in English and Arabic presenting the new glossary on our website. The interviews were held at the recent launch event at the African Development Bank. The Islamic Development Bank will make an official launch with the Arab co-ordination group later in the month of June.
