â??Systematization is a methodology that offers a way to do all of the above. It allows us to:

- Organise and document what we have learnt through our work
- Better understand the impact of our work and the ways in which change happens
- Develop deeper understanding about our work and the challenges we face to inform new ways of working
- Capture and communicate the complexity and richness of our work

Systematization â??helps people involved in different kinds of practice to organize and communicate what they have learned. We are talking about â?¦so called â?¦. lessons learned, about which everybody talks nowadays, but are not so easy to produce.â?• (AAI systematization resource pack, pg. 1, 2009)â?•
